

EVERY DAY WE LEARN SOMETHING NEW

I feel proud to share that in last 40 years every day I have learnt something new whether from my friends, family, strangers, colleagues or my students. Time itself is a teacher which we all can observe now in this current situation of world outbreak.

Everyone is trying to survive by doing new experiments and searching for better alternatives. Covid-19 has changed everybody, lifestyle but the emotions are same.

It is my hobby to observe things minutely. I never get satisfied easily and never give up. I am very much target oriented. I do my own planning to motivate my team. I prefer a practical approach with flexibility while explaining and executing things. I always believe in keeping a positive approach. It becomes my strength and helps me to cross all the hurdles easily. Today in this tough time we at BRGS, Indrapuram are trying to give quality education to our students without any condition. Keeping screen time in mind we have created our own strategies where students are learning without spoiling their health.

Moreover, we are trying to engage our students in different fun-filled activities for their holistic growth and development. My well-trained teachers are very much dedicated to the student's growth.

Our strong bonding with our students makes them feel important and their small gestures keep us young and energetic. It is my passion to solve all the issues of my students and help them to select the best path so that they can reach their destination.

I strongly believe that 5Ds are very important in our lives if we really want to achieve success. Dare, Dream, Discipline, Discover and Do, these five are very much interconnected and to achieve success these are mandatory.

So without getting afraid we should focus on our aim. At the end I simply suggest everyone to be careful, take some precautions and move towards your goal.

In pursuit of creating the NEW YOU accepting the NEW NORMAL

In the Covid-19 pandemic, people got exposed to a sudden novelty and they began to think differently. Some switched over to reading, some to listen, some to cooking, some to meditating and some simply got worried.

Educationists, started reimagining K-12 education by restructuring academics, about the role of technology and digital learning in the new scenario and the adaptive leadership to manage and survive the all-new big crisis. Certainly, therein came the new role of educators.

It was, indeed, a galactic challenge for all the teachers to become tech-savvy overnight wherein they were to maintain working with the students as the NEW YOU of varying strengths and development needs. Gearing them up to adapt themselves not only to the use of technology but also to their own style and behaviour to suit each student's needs, proved to be a massive shift for them.

Teachers have put their foot forward to make their students well understand that the universe responds to the positive frequency and recognizes only vibrations and also that the true education is nothing but our attitude, actions, language and behaviour with others in real life.

Varied stances towards collective growth

The students prepared themselves as "global in their outlook but essentially Indians at heart". Propelled by this positivity, Model United Nations Society of St. Mark's Senior Secondary Public School Meera Bagh organised the 3rd edition Of Enthral MUN.

Around 100 delegates representing different schools and colleges participated in this online debating forum showcasing their oratory skills. The event witnessed a series of discussions and deliberation of ideas on various global and national issues in four different committees-High Level Political Forum, National Media Commission, World Health Organization and International Press. The delegates debated in an intellectually stimulating environment to voice their opinions simulating some of the world's most powerful leaders and representatives of nations with a solution oriented approach. All the delegates showed extensive research on their respective portfolios. After two days of continuous debating the result was declared by the members of the Executive Board and the winners were felicitated with cash prizes and certificates. As in the previous two editions, this time too the proceeds from the competition were donated to the Prime Minister's Relief Fund..

'A leader is one who knows the way, goes the way and shows the way'

The Investiture Ceremony held virtually by St Angel's School, Rohini. A spirit of unity and dynamism filled the air as the Grand Ceremony commenced with the lighting of lamp virtually in the backdrop of a religious prayer sung by the music teacher followed by the display of an informative video showcasing the need to be courageous and bold during the COVID-19.

This is a solemn occasion wherein all the young students are well prepared to don the mantle of leadership and responsibility while carrying it out with utmost dedication. The heads of the student Councils, the Cultural Heads, Sports Captains and Editors are elected who pledged to work earnestly and uphold the honour and glory of the institution. The founder Principal motivated the children to keep moving forward despite all the obstacles and challenges that life throws in front of us.

Green crusaders do their bit

Cambridge School Srivasturi marked the 50th anniversary of Earth Day with students conducting class-based virtual special assemblies. The special programme began with the school prayer Sangachatvam Sangatvam, a Rig Veda mantra which means to move in harmony sung by all. The children expressed their views and concern for the environment with thought-provoking speeches for Mother Earth and by singing songs, reciting poems, etc. They also pledged to become stewards of this planet by adopting eco-friendly habits. The school organised a series of online activities on the theme 'Back to Nature' wherein students planted saplings in their houses, designed posters and rangolis, made presentations, paintings, sketches, watched documentaries and also spoke from their own homes to sensitise one and all about protecting the environment.
